Resurrection Anniversary

We like anniversaries. We celebrate the anniversaries of births and marriages, even the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It's not an obsession with calendars and numbers, it is a fond connection to that time of year when something real and important happened - your child was born during a snowstorm, or you were married on a rainy spring day. Easter is the anniversary of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, an event that happened during the Passover season. Today we remember that it was around this time of year - thousands of years ago - that our Savior was victorious over death, a victory we share through him. -Cooper Atkeson
